How to find your Ikigai !

You can only apply your Ikigai when you already know what you want for yourself. For many, this requires a good deal of introspection and research. But that doesn't stop you from starting to fill your Ikigai with what you already know, like in this exemple.

You can also download a template to fill in by clicking here, then editing it with your favorite image editor or printing it.

Start by filling in the circles with words, ideas, pictures or phrases that apply to “What you like”, “What you are good at”, “What the world needs”, “What you will be paid for”. If necessary, ask yourself these below questions to clarify your thinking :

What do you LIKE?

What do you enjoy doing? What touches you? What passions do you have?

What are you GOOD at?

What are your talents and how can you develop them? What are you proud of? What are you doing useful for others?

What the world NEEDS?

How can you contribute to the world? What changes do you want to make to the world?

What to get PAID for?

What skills can you monetize? What are your valuable ideas?

THE BIGGEST MYSTERY LIES AHEAD

Your turn to fill out your Ikigai
